

Kimura Motoo 木村資生

📖 3年生 (関係代名詞)

Kimura Motoo

Kimura Motoo is a scientist who was born in Okazaki. When he was in Neishi Elementary School, he became interested in science. He was especially into collecting plants. On Sundays, during his high school years, he went to a mountain that was far from his home and tried to collect many kinds of plants. So he was often called “*Botanist” by his friends.

“*Survival of *the luckiest” is a *phrase that Motoo came up with. It means that the *lucky ones survive. First, many scientists were surprised by his idea and disagreed with it. But he never *gave up on his own idea. Finally, his idea was recognized as correct among many scientists in the world. He got many *awards for his work from not only Japan, but also the U.S. He became a great scientist.

注) *botanist 植物博士 *survival 生存

*the luckiest: 一番運がいい *phrase 句 *lucky 運がいい

*gave up give up あきらめる)の過去形 *award 賞

